PERSONAL SKILLS

Dr. Abate has gained experience in rehabilitation (mostly orthopaedic and sport patients) and ultrasound diagnosis of musculoskeletal disorders. Moreover, he performs ultrasound-guided treatment of musculo-skeletal diseases, with the aid of Platelet Rich Plasma, Hyaluronic Acid, Echoguided treatment of calcific shoulder tendinopathy, and so on.

Dr. Abate is also a Medical researcher. In particular the most important research fields include: a). the pathogenesis of tendinopathies (both in general population and athletes, the influence of dysmetabolic pathologies on tendons); b). ultrasound imaging and the effects of the echo-guided treatments of the musculoskeletal apparatus (tendons, ligaments, muscles, bones, nerves); and c). experimental studies on the use of stem cells in the treatment of spontaneous and induced tendinopathies.

RESEARCH PRODUCTION

Publications Authors of 63 (39 as first author) papers (up to November 2017) on journals with impact factor quoted on Pubmed (topics about orthopaedic, rehabilitation, diagnostic ultrasound, ultrasound-guided treatment)

Book chapters Authors of 8 chapters (5 as first author) (up to November 2017) on books of orthopaedic, rehabilitation, and diagnostic ultrasound

Lectures Author of more than 80 communications of orthopaedic, rehabilitation and ultrasound interest at National and International Conferences.
